Greenwood City —

— Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres. —

There was mellowness on this quiet sunny day when I left for the cathedral of the woods. It was before the big storm and as I crossed the pond to the mouth of the Sanborn River, the sky was a blue bowl. The river had a thin coat of shell ice shattered by the travel of snowmobiles. Heaps of broken crystals lay everywhere, catching the sun and reflecting it back in a resplendent prismatic blaze. It made bell-like music beneath my feet. Trees cast blue shadows on the sparkling snow and the sun turned the ice to a kaleidoscope of color, each piece a chip, a spark, a jet of fiery spray that made diamonds seem dingy.

The silence and the simplicity of the landscape was soothing. On the hummocks where the ice had jammed and in the hollows there were light and shade in great variety.

I went up as far as the beaver pool then cut across the forest on the trapper's trail. Under the pines there was a whispering, as the wind sighed and sang in the tops of heavy boughs.

So I came again to the pond with its marble floor and white carpet then went up pond.

The ravens came crawking over head; wide wing spread, savage bills, and feathers so black they looked iridescent. As they swept over and caught sight of me, they banked sharply then took their way over the farm fields to Noyes Mountain; giving back their guttural call with its haunting cr-r-ronk.

The farm buildings were clear-etched and the hills across the valley were sharp against the horizon.

I came to the cattails, raggedy fluffs of cylindrical blossoms capping their sturdy stems huddled by the shore.

Here I turned left and passed through a grove. I picked a branch of maple buds to carry home. "Though the snow is deep and frosty, Maple memories warm the heart."....Alice Mason. I tried to read the message of the new season soon coming, in the swelling of the buds. The light now grows longer and in a jar of water on my window sill they are now in bloom.

I climbed the hill ahead of me and could see where the winds had whisked the snow; scupturing the masses into twisted ridges and sweeping curves. I stood and watched for this was a moment in time never to come bubbling through again.

The house at my right, nestled among trees and snuggled down to earth, was lonely and its clear windows looked with me across rolling hills and shimmering snow.

Soon I came to the Patch Mountain road. To my left it descended into a hollow and crossed the Sanborn River, only to mount again in a long enticing curve toward the sky line. I turned back and retraced my path home.

Tendrils of smoke curled up in spirals from a chimney down pond. The mountains were asleep beneath their white coverlets.

Living in Maine one can not choose his season but he can if he will, take each as an experience and from each gain something to enrich his life. He can add a gallery of memorials from which he can take one at a time and enjoy as he did when he first tucked it away in his mind.

Most of the news this week was snow. Everyone who could was using a blower, plow, or shovel.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holt and son, Danny, were with Mr. and Mrs. Leonas Holt on Sunday, returning to Augusta late afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Leeper of Kingstown, R. I., left their camp here just before the big snow storm. After reaching Danvers, Mass., they had to leave their car and then find a motel in which they stayed two nights. The police informed them that they could then go north so they returned to Greenwood City on Wednesday evening and went home on Friday. Their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Leeper and son, Jordon, from Wareham, Mass., are at the camp now. The sister of Mrs. Leeper is also there.

Callers at Frank Curtis' have been Irene Stevens, Augusta; Mildred Bowman, Hebron; Karen Curtis, Town.

Mrs. Lucy Bragg and son, Tomry, West Sumner, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Rex Felton and Kathy Curtis.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Curtis were recent callers at the home of Mr and Mrs. Carl Curtis.

Northwest Bethel —

The storm of '78! Growing up we have often heard of storms compared with a bad storm of some years before. Actually we were so much better than the states south of us. Saturday the 4th, George called from Virginia and said they had about three inches of snow. He had heard that in an hours time a hundred or more accidents happened just in the Norfolk vicinity. A lot of people just will not drive in any snow so if everyone was out conditions would be worse. He called the 11th and said that you could sometimes see little patches of snow, so not really that warm in Virginia. George's ship, the U.S. S. Texas leaves the 15th for a months' trip. They intend to go to Texas among other ports.

Wilfred called up from Chanute AFB in Illinois and they are quarantined because of the flu. Wilfred was or is supposed to leave Feb. 17 or 18 for his permanent duty station in Carolina but now is not sure if they can leave then or not.

Ms. Lee Einzig went Feb. 3 to Arlington, Mass., to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Hassler Einzig and came back Feb. 5, just before the storm.

Ms. Sally Clay stayed overnight Feb. 8, in Norway and worked all night. She couldn't get her car working so couldn't get home until it was fixed. Sally works at the Advertiser-Democrat in Norway and her hours are very flexible.

Little Nicholas Chapman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Chapman, was still in the hospital when I called. Mrs. Ada Cummings left Friday for New Jersey.

Mrs. Betty Gilbert will be going Wednesday to Lewiston for more tests.

Ms. Mary Belle Bennett from Portland, came up Sunday visiting the Brown's and Laban's. Mary was born in the house the Laban's live in and lived there until she went away to work.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Hutchins had supper Thursday, Feb. 9, with their daughter-in-law, Elaine and their two little granddaughters.

Little Stan Moore and a friend were making tunnels in the snow when the friend accidently hit him with a shovel above the eye. Little Stan had to go to outpatient at Norway hospital to have stitches. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Moore.

Terry Mason and Lee Blake came up from Augusta Saturday to visit their parents. Sunday, Terry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mason, had a birthday party at her parents home. Attending besides the parents, Carol and Melinda, were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mason III and Jennifer, Scott Mason and Lee Blake, Ruth made the cake and ice cream, Grammie and Grampa Murphy (Pat Ersel) couldn't get up so they were taken down some of the cake. Terry was 20.

All of the Victor Coolidges are home, as of Monday, with the flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Butters took a ride Sunday to Lovell. They visited her sister-in-law, Mrs. Marion Rodgerson.

Mrs. Sylvia Benson took Mrs. Joan Coolidge to Rumford and lunch Friday.

Saturday Frank and Sylvia Benson went to Bean's Restaurant in South Paris for supper and Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Frank Benson Jr., their four children and one of the children's friends, spent the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Angevine stopped at his sister's and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Orial Deblois in Shelburne, N. H., Sunday evening. They had supper at the Northland's in Berlin, N. H., and also stopped at another of Ernest's sisters and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Holt of Berlin for the evening.

Mrs. Ruth Mason took Charles Mason to Togus Monday for a check up. He was able to come back home.

Ms. Laura DeConzo of Rumford visited Mrs. Barbara MacDougall Sunday and the two women went snowshoeing.

Gerry Shimamura had to go in for tests at Stephens Memorial Monday. They said that apparently the flu was causing her troubles. She and Joe ate at Bean's Restaurant on the way home.

Mrs. Sue Angevine held at the afternoon session of Mrs. Ethel Bisbee School for the children's Valentine Party.

Kristy Angevine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Angevine, was a Friday night guest of Kathie Holden, daughter of Ms. Carolyn Holden. Kathie came up to Angevines Saturday and spent until Sunday afternoon with Kristy.

Today, Monday, Feb. 13, is a beautiful day and as one person said I can almost feel spring in the air.

Often the difference between a successful marriage and a mediocre one consists of leaving about three or four things a day unsaid.

Edie Smith, looking out her kitchen window one morning, saw five partridges in an apple tree.

CARD OF THANKS

Many thanks to all my friends, for their kindness, thoughtfulness and cards, during my stay at Rumford Hospital, and since returning home. Also, all the people who gave Mary a hand. It was very much appreciated.

North Paris

— Eveline Barrett, Corres. —

Isn't it nice to have a nice white blanket of snow for a change? So many hardships for so many people. I'm still glad I live in the state of Maine. I don't do any shoveling but eventually I get out. To see the cars go by I need to stand on a chair. The power was out for one half hour Tuesday noon. One more storm and we can have a tree house. That's the life. Schools were closed Tuesday and Wednesday. Fay Eastman's son and Mark Huston's son shoveled Wednesday noon. We are already for the new storm that is expected Tuesday.

Betty Stevens was at Dr. Porters' Saturday a. m., for an eye examination and new glasses.

Doris Lawrence went to the doctor Feb. 6 and he told her that if she didn't stay home from work and take care of her bronchitis she would have pneumonia. She couldn't have worked anyway, the condition she was in. She came over here Feb. 11, the first time in two weeks. She will return to work Feb. 13.

No word from Kalinowski's since Jan. 21, so they must have gone to Florida and missed the disastrous storm in Connecticut.

Word from the "Pete" Collettes, formerly at Trap Corner, says they are out again after Pete's flu, pneumonia and complications.

This lovely Monday morning we are going to Dr. Houghton's, in South Paris; then to McDonald's. We need a change once a week.

The California flood pictures on TV today are terrible. Which is worse, water or snow?

Until next week, get rested so to be ready for our next storm, which I hope goes out to sea.

On Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Lovejoy and Ellen were supper guests at the Wests' Rumford.

Miss Patty Owen was a caller at the Lovejoy home on Sunday afternoon.

There has been some traveling with snow machines since the big storm of last week. Hard to keep the trails open this winter with so much snow.

The town and state crews have done a good job in keeping the highways open to traffic in this area. There has been no time during the bad storms that anyone couldn't get out in case of illness to a doctor, or hospital if necessary.

Monday morning temperature was —4° early. Sun came out later. Quite a nice winter day with temperature reading at noon 22° above zero.

The Willing Workers will hold a meeting at Mrs. Sheryl Wilbur's home, Tuesday evening, Feb. 28, at 7 o'clock. There is special business to be taken up so we hope everyone will turn out for the meeting. Please mark the date on your calendar.

A real blizzard hit this area Tuesday when whirling snow covered the lower sash of my back windows. Out back the drift was higher than the clothes reel by morning and still blowing and the birds' feed tray can't be seen from my chair as the snow drift is higher than I have ever seen it on the window. There were no schools anywhere today, Tuesday. The window in the back shed is completely covered to the very top. I do hope it blew off the roof then I won't have to worry about that but I haven't been able to go out where I could see the roof.

I have a tomato plant with 16 little tomatoes on it. I have to find a window with sun to ripen them off. I moved it out of the window covered with snow this morning. One is turning red Thursday morning.

According to a U. S. Labor Department publication, "U. S. Working Women," women occupy the majority of clerical and service jobs; they make up about 40% of professional-technical, sales, and operative workers.

WALKING WITH JESUS CHRIST

The Holy Bible

Still the best seller of all books—the Bible is the Book of books. Our first president—George Washingtoning relied on it, God's Word—one can see him kneeling before God asking for guidance—wisdom in bringing about what was to become the world's greatest nation whose motto is: "In God We Trust."

The Bible is the greatest of all books—God wrote it! His Word always was—is and forever will be. In it we see instructions for all peoples—even great men of the Bible, Solomon for example, with worldly goods and wealth beyond measure was unhappy—he too had to learn the hard way—for in Ecc. 12:8 he write "Vanities of vanities, saith the preacher; all is vanity"; vs. 12(NAS) "....be warned; the writing of many books is endless, and excessive devotion to books (we add: T.V. and radio, too) is wearing to the body"; vs. 13 "Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear the Lord, and keep His commandments: for this is the whole duty of man."

How difficult to learn, as we see another great Biblical character—Job as he relates in 28:28: "....Behold the fear of the Lord, that is wisdom; and to depart from evil is understanding." What trials he had before he obeyed God.

How many of us are so foolish as not to heed His Word—His love for us is so great—He waits—we cannot hide from Him. Jeremiah 24:24 "Can any hide himself in secret places that I shall not see him? Saith the Lord. Do not I fill heaven and earth? saith the Lord."

George Washington sought the seclusion of the forest to talk with God—what did he pray for?—to seek God's will—for instruction—how to lead his army—to pray for his men and the men of his foe too—for was much death and bloodshed.

We too, must learn to pray for everything—especially wisdom and knowledge—when reading the Bible. 2 Tim. 3:16 "All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness."

Today there are learned men who continually read and study books, wise men in their own ways—many even read the Bible—but do not "know" God—for them the Holy Spirit does not reveal the truths of God's Word because they refuse to acknowledge God as their Lord.

God says in Matt. 6:33 "But seek we first the kingdom of God, and His righteousness; and all these things shall be added to you."

Proverbs 1:7 "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge: but fools despise wisdom and instruction."

Let us now then, turn from foolish things—to seek in God's Word, to meditate and pray, for the Bible is our Book of life, here, now and forevermore.

Letters to the Editor

Feb. 13, 1978

Dear Mr. Editor:

There is nothing quite like the Worst Blizzard Of The Century to bring the humanity out in humans. Living in a large metropolitan area, like Boston, teaches one to lose sight of many human values and kindnesses. Saying "Hello" to a stranger can cause all kinds of repercussions, to say nothing of a smile. And you are taking your life in your hands by offering someone your right-of-way!

Now, add 30" of snow and 80 m.p.h. winds to recipe and VOILA! The walls of Isolation come a-tumblin' down. Concern replaces Complacency, Cooperation overtake Competition. People actually help other people.

A traffic ban has been in effect for nearly a week, and the streets look like a scene out of the late 1800's. Thousands of people, young and old, walking. Yes, I said WALKING. You want a newspaper? Walk. Need some groceries? Walk. I walked a total of 8 miles yesterday to visit friends. It's not that I was unable to do this before (I generally do quite a bit of walking)—it just hadn't occurred to me as a major means of transportation. Here's a list of transportation alternatives used by many city dwellers in order of preference: 1. The Car; 2. Subway/Bus; 3. Taxi; 4. Bicycle/Hitchhike; and now a new alternative, 5. Walk. We'd be so much better off (physically and financially) if Walk were at the top of the list, or at least closer to the top. (Notice that I'm realistic enough to admit that The Car can't be eliminated completely.)

The Boston Blizzard of Feb. 6-7 has been truly disastrous for many who've lost their homes, and in some instances, their lives. I'm not saying that we should have one every year or every 10 years, for that matter. But the camaraderie and ingenuity which such disasters evoke is worth experiencing at least once in a lifetime. It's just a shame that it often takes a crisis of monumental proportion to shake a little bit of sense into us.

To the Editor:

Open Letter to the People of Woodstock —

Soon it will be time for the town meeting in Woodstock. It is only about one month until March. Are you happy with the Road Commissioner? Has he kept your roads open and sanded? Have you had to complain or put up with poorly maintained roads. WE HAVE! Our summer roads are poorly maintained and our winter roads at times are plowed properly maybe two or three days after the storm is over.

Many people in Woodstock live on a state maintained highway and either do not realize or don't care about the quality of the back roads. I have heard people get up in town meeting (and one man wrote a letter to the editor last year) and spout off a bunch of "bull" about how wonderful the roads are kept. Maybe the present Road Commissioner won't like this letter, then I say this, get on the ball mister and then you won't be having complaints so much!

I also understand from a very reliable source that the road equipment is in very poor repair. I don't know personally about this, but if it is so, it would seem to me that we town people pay enough taxes that we should have good roads and properly repaired equipment.

Sincerely,
Floyd Hurd

P. S. See you at town meeting in March—let's all get out and vote.

Tax-Free House Sale If Over 65

A homeowner who is over 65 or older may be able to avoid all income taxes on the profit from the sale of his home if he meets certain requirements. The two main ones are:

The house must have been used as the taxpayer's principal residence for five of the eight years preceding the sale.

The adjusted sales price of the house must be $35,000 or less. If you sold for more than $35,000, you can still avoid tax on the gain attributable to the first $35,000 of the sales proceeds.

If husband and wife own the house jointly, only one has to be 65 or older for the rule to apply. Unfortunately, this tax exclusion can be used only once.

You make the election to exclude the profit by attaching a signed statement to this effect with your tax return. Check with an accountant or Internal Revenue Service for details and form numbers.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at EARLY REAL ESTATE, 60 Main St., Bethel. Phone: 824-2122, 824-2579. We're here to help!

SENIOR CITIZENS MET FEB. 8 AT SUNDAY RIVER INN

The Senior Citizens met at the Sunday River Inn for their regular meeting Wednesday, Feb. 8.

It was opened at 11 o'clock with President Muriel Faudi presiding. One officer, Elizabeth Lord, was absent. Sarah Stevens filled in for her as treasurer. The Lord's Prayer by all was the opening ceremony.

The treasurer's and secretary's reports were given. A short business meeting followed.

Cora Bennett gave her report of "get well" cards to Sylvia Conroy, Rose Taylor, Edna Bean, Danny Forbes, Clare Smith, Floribel Haines, Leona Lurvey, Dot and Angelo Onofrio, Mildred Webster and Winona Davis. Birthday cards to Rena Abbott and Muriel Faudi; Sympathy to Iola Forbes, Robert Perry and Alice McAllister. It was also reported that Rev. Carl Kingsbury is at the Sebastian River Medical Center, Sebastian, Fla. 32958. Cards would be appreciated. Thank you cards for her Christmas box from Iola Forbes and one from Emily and Sue for their mother's as well.

A health screening clinic will be held at the Congregational Church, March 9, April 4, 10 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 4 p. m. Hope weather will permit a larger turnout.

The Valentines, after the exchange, were collected for the Ledgeview Home. Alice Kimball, a member of the "Out Reach" program gave a report. Maxine Brown, Daisy LeClair, Emily Saunders, Carolyn Brooks, Norma Jodrey, Helen Varner and Rev. Caton are all week visitors at the Home and from the Congregational Church.

Carolyn Brooks, president of the Rumford Hospital Auxiliary, asked for volunteers to "mend" in their homes as it is a much needed task.

A check from "us" was given toward a farewell gift for Jim Rowe. He is retiring after seven years as executive director of Senior Citizens Inc., of South Paris. He will be greatly missed. Good luck Jim, wherever you go.

A bus and boat trip was discussed to Boothbay Harbor for Spring.

Julie Daye was also on hand with her Donald Duck for a good cause, Muscular Dystrophy. She is a member of the association.

There were 45 members at the tables and Ranald Stevens gave the blessing. Those at the head table observing their birthdays were Selma Chapman, Mabel Robertson and Emily Saunders. Others were unable to attend.

The staff served a delicious chicken pie dinner with apple crunch pudding plus the birthday cake furnished by Ruth Dorion, Alice McAllister and Dorothy Onofrio, cut and served by Sarah Stevens.

Emily Saunders gave an interesting report of her sixteen day tour by plane through Germany, Poland and Lithuania on into Russia. She was accompanied by her sister, Sue Farrar. Lithuania is the land of their ancestry. They were cordially received by Russia but restricted and a guide was always by their side. She told of their customs, stores, and hotels. It was very interesting and greatly enjoyed by all.

CARD OF THANKS

Our sincere thanks to our friends and neighbors who helped make our 47th wedding anniversary a happy one. Special thanks to our family and to everyone who attended our party and remembered us with cards and gifts.

S. A. D. #44 ADULT ED. NEWS

On Monday evenings at Telstar Regional High School and Thursday morning at Paradise Road in Bethel one may find a flurry of activity with Kay Chadbourne and her Sewing Classes.

Kay, who holds a Masters Degree in Home Economics from the South Dakota State University, is busy showing her students the mysteries of matching plaids and stripes as well as the art of cutting materials. She uses a basic pattern and shows how one can change the neckline, sleeves or hemline to make a variation on the original and to produce a garment to suit the individual. She demonstrates the use of invisible and machine hemlines and the fancy stitching to produce the final results.

Kay's Thursday morning Stretch Knit Class is full of demonstrations and the students work at home on the projects and bring them in the next week for class discussion. She says, "They make five garments in five weeks if all goes well".

Upon completion of the course one will be able to create dresses, mens shirts, pant suits, vests, slacks, blouses and even some stuffed animals. In the final class each person will bring her own sewing machine and Kay will show the machines' possibilities and limitations as well as how to maintain the machine. Kay also teaches the use of the Zig-Zag, the Button Hole, the Appliques, and the Hem Stitching Gadgets of the machine. She also shows the short cuts in iron-on interfacing, seam binding, how to make cuffs, insert sleeves, placement of zippers, etc.

Kay is the mother of two small children and when she is not teaching, she is a busy housewife. Her hobbies are cross country, skiing, tennis, reading, flower arranging and she enjoys moped-ing. Kay has been a resident of Bethel for the past 2½ years.

DEN 5 OF CUB SCOUTS ENJOY BALLOON RIDE

Cub Scout Den 5 of Bethel's Pack 566 has a knack for being in the right place at the right time. On Tuesday afternoon the den was holding its regular meeting at Sunday River Inn under the leadership of Den Mother Peggy Wight when exciting things began taking place. Jim Isler and Paul Gould, guests at Sunday River Inn, returned with their families from a perfect day of skiing at Sunday River Ski Area had decided to end the day with a tethered balloon flight. The Islers and Goulds excited area residents a year ago with their trans-Bethel balloon flight from Sunday River to Mt. Abram.

The Cubs called an early end to their meeting to turn out for the excitement of the launch. Den members Scott Korhonen, Jay Davis, Coley Fudge and Eric Wight helped with balloon preparedness by joining with the crew that laid the craft out in the parking lot at the Inn. Once the 1,000 yards of nylon was in place they watched as first cold air then hot air was blown into the balloon.

Soon what had minutes earlier been a bag of bright colored nylon became a beautiful 70 foot diameter giant attached to a passenger gondola. The balloon was attached to cars around the edges of the parking lot, and the Cubs and guests and employees of the Inn were treated to rides up over the roof tops and back down to earth again. What excitement and what a Cub meeting to remember!

Sorry about not having a column last week—but I was really snowed in.

The big lights are back on the ambulance. Thanks to everyone for being patient and understanding about them.

The regular monthly meeting will be Monday, Feb. 20 at the Fire Station at 7 o'clock. This is for new and old members.

Arthur and Ruth Cummings along with Florence Merrill, met with many other ambulance and rescue services at Hebron to talk about common volunteer rescue problems.

The Board of Directors met to elect two people to represent the B.E.A.R.S. at a supper for John Wall in Lewiston Tuesday night. John and Arlene Greenleaf were chosen.

Safety Tip of the Week

First Aid to control bleeding in the extremities.

Apply direct pressure at bleeding point (directly on wound)

Elevate above the level of heart, unless there is evidence of a fracture.

If direct pressure and elevation do not stop bleeding, apply pressure on the supplying artery.

STATE OF MAINE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Karen L. Brown

Feb. 12, 1978

The Energy Committee held a public hearing this week on legislation that dealt with insulation. The first bill required insulation contractors to only install class one cellulose insulation in residential homes. This type of insulation was encouraged because it is not flamable.

The second piece of legislation would specify the content of insulation contracts and prohibit the installation of insulation by contractors unless they are licensed and certified. From the testimony received at the hearing, I questioned that licensing a contractor would guarantee the quality of work that he did. The bill is still in committee and will be changed before reaching the floor of the House.

A bill that I sponsored to protect Maine's Ski Industry from massive liability suits was passed in the House and the Senate this week. The nations ski industry represents a $3 billion business in this country and has recently been hard hit by a huge jump in liability insurance cost. This increase is a direct result of some heavy court awards that seem to have shifted the burden of responsibility for injuries from the skiers to the lift operators. The ski operators in Maine have worried because of soaring insurance premiums in other states. This legislation won't reduce the insurance premiums for Maine ski areas, but it will insure that insurance will be available.

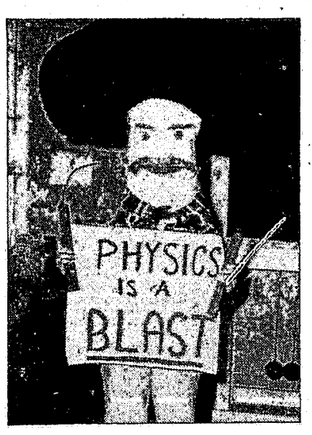
This measure, submitted in a response to ski area insurance problems nation-wide, would reduce the time in Maine for an injured skier to file a damage suit from six to two years. Maine already has a law on the books requiring skiers to assume much of the risk when downhill and cross-country skiing. This bill just more clearly defines the responsibility of the skier once he leaves the lift and begins downhill.

The State Government has submitted a bill which would make significant changes in the status of policy making employees within state government. Currently, all commissioners and heads of major state departments are appointed by the Governor, and serve at his pleasure without any civil service tenure. However, deputy commissioners and other positions which have a major influence on departmental policy are, in most cases, classified positions with civil service tenure. Persons occupying these positions are unable to be easily removed without sufficient cause.

This bill proposes to make those positions at the second level, below the department or agency head, appointed positions. Appointments and removal would be at the discretion of the department head.

Proponents of this bill believe that since many of these persons frequently have a substantial influence on department and state policy, they should not be "locked in" to civil service tenure, and should be more responsive to the commissioner. Many have also argued that this bill will remove some of the "career" or "deadwood" in important policy-making positions. Opponents have expressed concern that this could be a deterrent to the attraction of qualified career personnel. This bill will be amended many times before it reaches the floor of the house.

On Saturday, I spoke at a program in Augusta that was organized by the Maine Commission for Women. The agenda was on "Women working in the political field."



PHYSICS IS A BLAST! Yes! That's what Telstar Rebel Mascot, Yosemite Sam, thinks after completing a semester of Project Physics. Actually, it's not the real Yosemite Sam but a papier mache substitute made by Christine Gauthier as a physics "Do your own thing".
